About the NRMP

The National Resident Matching Program (NRMP) is a private, not-for-profit corporation established in 1952 to optimize the rank-ordered choices of applicants and program directors. The NRMP is not an application processing service; rather, it provides an impartial venue for matching applicants' and programs' preferences for each other consistently.

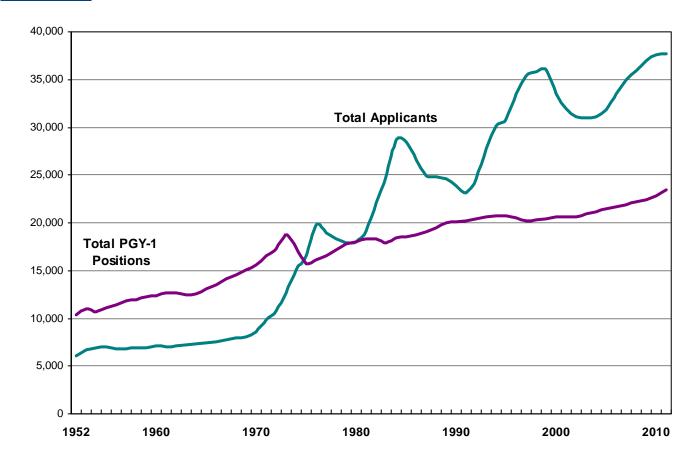

The first Match was conducted in 1952 when 10,400 internship positions were available for 6,000 U.S. graduating seniors. By 1973, there were 19,000 positions for just over 10,000 U.S. graduating seniors. Following the demise of internships in 1975, the number of first-year post-graduate (PGY-1) positions dropped to 15,700. The number of PGY-1 positions offered gradually increased through 1994 and then began to decline slowly until 1998. This year, a record-high 23,421 PGY-1 positions were offered (Figure 1).

The trend in the total number of applicants since 1952 is more dramatic, starting with 6,000 in 1952 and rising to a high of 36,056 in 1999. After a decline of 5,052 applicants from 1999 to 2003, the number of applicants registered for the 2011 Match reached an all time high of 37,735, 179 more than 2010.

Active Applicant An active applicant is one who submits a certified rank order list of programs.

Applicant Type The NRMP classifies applicants for the Main Residency Match into seven applicant types:

- Seniors of U.S. Allopathic Medical Schools (U.S. Senior): A fourth-year medical student in an LCME-accredited U.S. allopathic school of medicine. A student with a graduation date after July 1 in the year before the Match is considered a U.S. senior. U.S. seniors are sponsored by their medical schools.
- Previous Graduates of U.S. Allopathic Medical Schools (U.S. Grad): A graduate with a graduation date before July 1 in the year before the Match is considered a previous U.S. graduate and is not sponsored by the medical school.
- Students/Graduates of Canadian Medical Schools (Canadian)
- Students/Graduates of Osteopathic Medical Schools (Osteo.)
- Students/Graduates of Fifth Pathway Programs (5th Pathway)
- U.S. Citizen Students/Graduates of International Medical Schools (U.S. IMG)
- Non-U.S. Citizen Students/Graduates of International Medical Schools (Non-U.S. IMG)

In some tables and figures in this report, applicant types are combined into a smaller number of groups.

- Foreign-Trained Physicians: U.S. citizen and non-U.S. citizen students and graduates of international medical schools
- Independent Applicants: All applicant categories excluding U.S. allopathic seniors
- Others: Includes previous U.S. graduates and Canadian, Osteopathic, and Fifth Pathway applicants

Any two applicants can register as a couple in the Match. The NRMP allows couples to form pairs of choices on their primary rank order lists, which are considered in rank order in the Match. The couple will match to the most preferred pair of programs on the rank order lists where each partner has been offered a position.

Introduction

This report summarizes data from the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP) 2011 Main Residency Match, the largest in NRMP history when measured by the numbers of positions offered (26,158) and filled (25,020), as well as by the numbers of registrants (37,735) and active applicants (30,589) who submitted certified rank order lists of programs.

A successful Match is not measured by volume alone, but also by how well it matches the preferences of applicants and programs. One measure of that objective is the percentage of positions filled. Based on that criterion, the fill rate of 95.6 percent makes the 2011 Match the most successful on record. A by-product of a high fill rate is fewer positions available in the post-Match "Scramble." In 2011, only 1,138 first-year and second-year positions were unfilled, and half (573) were PGY-1 only positions in Preliminary Surgery and Preliminary Medicine.

This year, 30,589 applicants vied for 23,421 available first-year and 2,737 second-year residency positions; 16,559 of those applicants were U.S. allopathic medical school seniors. The number of U.S. allopathic seniors was 489 more than in 2010, continuing a trend that began several years ago with the opening of several new medical schools and the expansion of class sizes in established institutions.

Other applicants included previous graduates of U.S. allopathic medical schools, U.S. citizen and non-U.S. citizen international medical school students and graduates, students and graduates of Canadian medical schools, students and graduates of osteopathic medical schools, and students and graduates of Fifth Pathway programs. Between 2010 and 2011, while active U.S. allopathic senior applicants showed the largest absolute increase in numbers (489), osteopathic applicants had the largest percentage increase (6.5%) among all the applicant groups.

The real and projected increases in the numbers of U.S. allopathic seniors have raised questions about how this growth may affect both their Match success and the success of other applicant groups. In 2011, the match rate for U.S. allopathic seniors was 94.1 percent, up from 93.3 in 2010 and only slightly lower than the historic high of 94.2 percent in 2008. In the meantime, at 52.6 percent, the percentage of seniors who matched to their first-choice program was the lowest since 1997. In most specialties, however, there continued to be more available positions than U.S. seniors who "preferred" them.

Other trends of interest include:

- After a five-year decline, the PGY-1 match rate for all active applicants went up two percentage points from 71.2 percent in 2010 to 73.2 percent in 2011.
- The number of active applicants who were non-U.S. citizen students/graduates of international medical schools declined from 7,246 in 2010 to 6,659 in 2011, making it the - lowest number in five years; however, the match rate for this group rose from 39.8 percent to 40.9 percent.

- The number of active U.S. citizen IMGs continued to grow, and at 3,769 was 40 percent more than in 2007. The match rate for this group was 50.0 percent.
- The number of active osteopathic students/graduates rose again this year. In 2011, 2,178 osteopathic students/graduates participated in the Match and 71.7 percent matched to a PGY-1 position, both higher than any of the previous four years.

Couples have been able to participate together in the Match since 1984. The two partners identify themselves as a couple to the NRMP and submit rank order lists of identical length. The algorithm treats the two lists as a unit, matching the couple to the highest linked program choices where both partners match. A record 809 couples participated in the 2011 Match. Couples continued to enjoy great success in the Match, with a match rate of 94.6 percent.

Match results can be an indicator of career interests among graduating medical school students. Highlights in 2011 include:

- The 2011 Match offered 26,158 positions, 638 more than 2010.
- Several large specialties offered more positions in 2011 than in the past years including Internal Medicine (Categorical), Family Medicine, Pediatrics (Categorical), Emergency Medicine, and General Surgery. At the same time, match rates for those specialties did not decline, showing a growing interest among applicants.
- Of the U.S. seniors who matched, 81 percent matched to one of their top three choices.

We hope you find the data contained in the following pages useful as you reflect on the 2011 Match and prepare for future matches.

Table 1 summarizes the 2011 Match and shows the numbers of participating programs, positions offered, and programs unfilled. It also provides ranking and matching data for U.S. seniors and all applicants.

Using Anesthesiology PGY-1 as an example:

- The first three columns ("No. of Programs," "Positions Offered," and "Unfilled Programs") show that 102 programs offered 841 Anesthesiology PGY-1 positions and that nine of those programs were unfilled.
- The numbers of applicants for U.S. seniors and total applicants are provided in the next two columns under "No. of Applicants." In 2011, 1,158 U.S. seniors ranked at least one Anesthesiology program, and a total of 1,628 applicants ranked Anesthesiology.
- The next two columns (under "No. of Matches") show that 671 of the 841 positions offered for Anesthesiology PGY-1 were filled by U.S. seniors and 820 were filled by all applicants.
- The percent fill rates (calculated as positions filled divided by positions offered) can be found in the two columns under "% Filled." Of the 841 PGY-1 positions offered in Anesthesiology, 79.8 percent were filled by U.S. seniors, and overall 97.5 percent were filled.
- The "Ranked Positions" columns show that collectively U.S seniors ranked those Anesthesiology programs 8,551 times and the total number of ranks for all applicants was 10,063.

The total number of positions offered in the 2011 Match was 26,158, an all-time high and 638 more than in 2010.

^{*}Applicants can rank multiple specialties. In 2011, 2,126 applicants matched to both PGY-1 and PGY-2 positions.

Table 2 shows the numbers of PGY-1 and PGY-2 matches in each specialty by applicant type. There was considerable variation in the number and proportion of each applicant group matching to each specialty. The data are described in more detail in Tables 10-12.

For example, the largest numbers of U.S. allopathic medical school seniors ("U.S. seniors") matched to:

- Internal Medicine (Categorical) (2,940)
- Pediatrics (Categorical) (1,768)
- Medicine-Preliminary (PGY-1 Only) (1,503)
- Family Medicine (1,301)
- Emergency Medicine PGY-1 and PGY-2 (1,277)
- Anesthesiology PGY-1 and PGY-2 (1,102)
- Surgery (Categorical) (897)
- Obstetrics-Gynecology (893)
- Diagnostic Radiology PGY-1 and PGY-2 (888)
- Transitional (PGY-1 Only) (811)

For prior graduates of U.S. allopathic medical schools ("U.S. Grad"), the largest numbers were matched to:

- Family Medicine (90)
- Internal Medicine (Categorical) (82)
- Surgery (Categorical) (73)
- Emergency Medicine PGY-1 and PGY-2 (70)

For students and graduates of osteopathic medical schools ("Osteo"), the largest numbers were matched to:

- Internal Medicine (Categorical) (309)
- Family Medicine (291)
- Pediatrics (Categorical) (226)
- Emergency Medicine PGY-1 and PGY-2 (181)
- Obstetrics-Gynecology (120)
- Anesthesiology PGY-1 and PGY-2 (118)
- Psychiatry (Categorical) (114)
- Physical Medicine & Rehab PGY-1 and PGY-2 (107)

For U.S. citizen students and graduates of international medical schools ("U.S. IMG"), the largest numbers were matched to:

- Internal Medicine (Categorical) (512)
- Family Medicine (502)
- Pediatrics (Categorical) (151)
- Psychiatry (Categorical) (128)
- Surgery-Preliminary (PGY-1 Only) (89)
- Obstetrics-Gynecology (86)
- Emergency Medicine PGY-1 and PGY-2 (77)
- Medicine-Preliminary (PGY-1 Only) (76)

For non-U.S. citizen students and graduates of international medical schools ("Non-U.S. IMG"), the largest numbers were matched to:

- Internal Medicine (Categorical) (1,215)
- Family Medicine (363)
- Pediatrics (Categorical) (256)
- Psychiatry (Categorical) (147)
- Surgery-Preliminary (PGY-1 Only) (129)
- Neurology PGY-1 and PGY-2 (126)
- Medicine-Preliminary (PGY-1 Only) (115)
- Pathology (106)

Tables 3 and 4

Table 3 shows the numbers of positions offered by specialty between 2007 and 2011. The 2011 Match offered 26,158 PGY-1 and PGY-2 positions, a combined increase of 6.0 percent over 2007. However, because specialties such as Anesthesiology and Emergency Medicine are converting their PGY-2 positions to PGY-1, there were fewer PGY-2 positions in 2011 than five years ago.

The increase in number of positions resulted mainly from expansion of larger specialties. For example, the numbers of positions in Internal Medicine (Categorical), Pediatrics (Categorical), Emergency Medicine (PGY-1 and PGY-2 combined), Anesthesiology (PGY-1 and PGY-2 combined), and Obstetrics-Gynecology rose every year over the five-year period, with mean annual growth rates from 1.1 percent (Obstetrics-Gynecology) to 4.1 percent (Emergency Medicine).

Compared with 2010, there were 638 (or 2.5 percent) more positions in 2011, the highest annual increase in five years. The main contributors to this change were Internal Medicine (Categorical) (122 more positions), Family Medicine (100), Pediatrics (Categorical) (54), and Emergency Medicine (51).

Specialties that have increased or decreased by at least 10 percent — and placed at least 10 positions in the Match — between 2007 and 2011 are highlighted in the Table 3 arrows.

Many applicants in addition to U.S. senior medical students seek residency positions through the NRMP. Trend data for different applicant categories are shown in Table 4 and Figure 2. The arrows in Table 4 indicate increases in the numbers of active applicants that were greater than the overall increase of 9.5 percent between 2007 and 2011.

Table 4 shows an upward trend of total registrants and total active applicants* for the past five years. The number of active applicants in 2011 (30,589) was 46 more than in 2010 (30,543).

The number of active U.S. seniors rose again in 2011, up 3.0 percentage points from 2010 and 8.9 percent points from 2007. At 94.1 percent, the match rate for PGY-1 U.S. seniors remained the highest among all applicant types.

Contrary to the overall trend of growing number of applicants, the number of non-U.S. citizen students/graduates of international medical schools has fluctuated over the past five years. The 2011 number of 6,659 is a five-year low, and an 8.1 percent decline from 2010. Their PGY-1 match rate was 40.9 percent, the lowest among all applicant groups.

* An active applicant is one who submits and certifies a rank order list of programs.

[➤] Denotes increase/decrease in number of positions offered of more than 10 percent and 10 positions between 2007 and 2011. Neurological Surgery joined the Match in 2009. ACGME created a new PGY-1 Plastic Surgery (Integrated) specialty in 2009. Combined/coordinated Plastic Surgery programs (which are not integrated) now appear under PGY-2 positions. Many Anesthesiology, Emergency Medicine, and Neurology programs have converted their positions from Advanced (PGY-2) to Categorical (PGY-1) over the period, affecting the trends in those specialties.

[▲] Denotes that the percentage increase in active applicants for this group was greater than the overall increase of 9.5% for all active applicants between 2007 and 2011.

Note: Match rates are based on all active applicants regardless of their ranking behavior. Therefore, applicants who matched to PGY-1 positions are counted as matched even if they ranked and did not match to a PGY-2 position. Applicants who ranked only PGY-2 programs are counted as unmatched in this table because they did not match to a PGY-1 position.

Table 5 shows the ratios of PGY-1 positions to active applicants from 1976 through 2011. The same data are shown graphically in Figure 3. The red line in Figure 3 represents the point at which there are equal numbers of applicants and positions; above the red line represents more positions than applicants, below the line more applicants than positions. Active applicants are defined as those who submitted and certified rank order lists.

- In 2011, the ratio of PGY-1 positions per active U.S. senior was 1.41, lowest since 1999, but higher than the overall average of 1.39 between 1976 and 2011. Historically, the ratio declined from 2.0 to 1 in 1972 (not shown) to a low of 1.25 to 1 in 1984 and 1985.
- The ratio of PGY-1 positions to total applicants (rather than only U.S. seniors) roughly followed the trend of the U.S. seniors as more than half of all applicants were U.S. seniors. However, the 2011 ratio of 0.77 was below the overall average of 0.92 between 1976 and 2011.

Table 6 displays the match rates to PGY-1 positions for U.S. allopathic seniors, U.S. citizens trained in international medical schools (U.S. IMGs), non-U.S. citizens trained in international medical schools (Non-U.S. IMGs), and other applicants (Canadian medical school students/graduates, osteopathic medical school students/graduates, Fifth Pathway applicants, and U.S. physicians who are prior-year graduates of U.S. allopathic medical schools). The data are shown graphically in Figure 4. Match rate is defined in Table 6 and Figure 4 as the percentage of active participants who matched to PGY-1 positions.

- 94.1 percent of U.S. allopathic seniors were matched in 2011, higher than the 2010 figure of 93.3 percent and one of the highest since 1982.
- 50.0 percent of U.S. citizens trained in international medical schools were matched, up from the 2010 figure of 47.3 percent.
- The match rate for non-U.S. citizens trained in international medical schools rose for the first time in six years, from 39.8 percent in 2010 to 40.9 in 2011.

Tables 7 and 8

Table 7 displays the numbers of positions offered by specialty, as well as the numbers filled by U.S. seniors and by an aggregate of all other applicants from 2007 through 2011. The data in Table 7 are shown graphically in Figure 5 for specialties that offered at least 100 positions. Table 8 displays the same information in percentages.

- In 2011, 25,020 matches were made to PGY-1 and PGY-2 positions, an increase of 642 (or 2.6%) over 2010.
- The position fill rate for all programs also went up in 2011. At 95.6 percent it was the highest ever.
- Family Medicine offered 2,708 positions, of which 48 percent were filled by U.S. seniors and 94.4 percent by all applicants, both higher than any of the previous four years.
- Between 2010 and 2011, the fill rate for Pathology declined 4.3 percentage points from 96.2 percent to 91.9 percent for all applicants; but the percentage of positions filled by U.S. seniors declined from 65.0 percent in 2010 to 51.9 percent in 2011.

Other specialties of note are:

• Specialties and specialty tracks with at least 10 positions in the Match and 100 percent fill rates:

Internal Medicine-Emergency Medicine (PGY-1) Pediatrics-Primary (PGY-1) Pediatrics/Psychiatry/Child Psychiatry (PGY-1) Plastic Surgery (Integrated) (PGY-1) Thoracic Surgery (PGY-1) Emergency Medicine (PGY-2) Plastic Surgery (PGY-2)

• Specialties with at least 10 positions in the Match and filled more than 90 percent by U.S. seniors:

Vascular Surgery (PGY-1): 96.7 percent
Otolaryngology (PGY-1): 95.1 percent
Radiation Oncology (PGY-1): 93.8 percent
Dermatology (PGY-1): 92.9 percent
Plastic Surgery (Integrated) (PGY-1): 92.9 percent
Orthopedic Surgery (PGY-1): 92.7 percent
Thoracic Surgery (PGY-1): 92.3 percent
Radiation Oncology (PGY-2): 90.3 percent

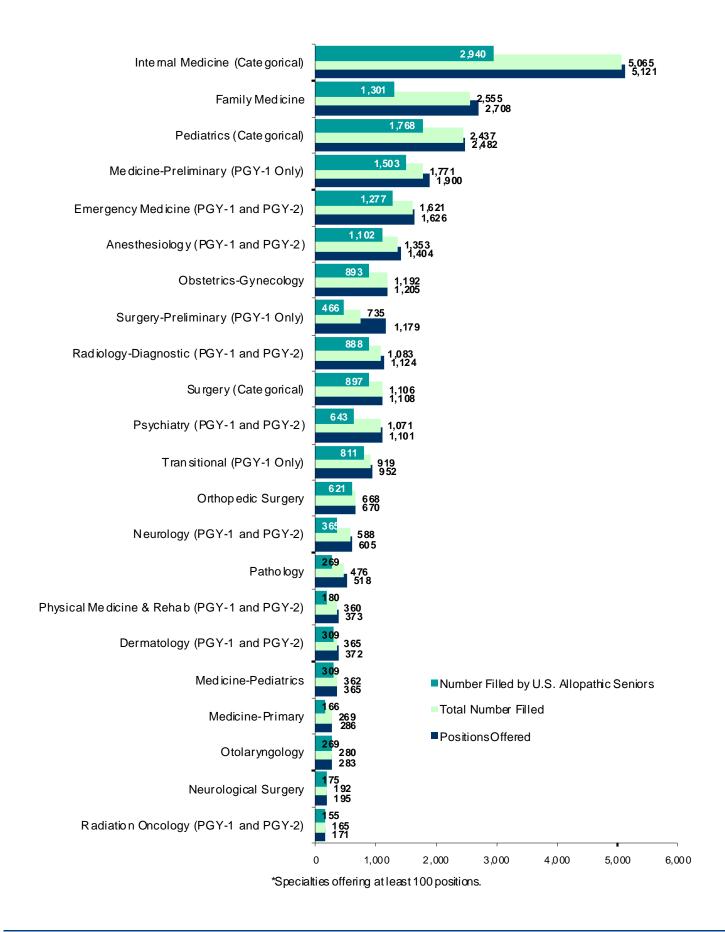

• Top five specialties with at least 10 positions in the Match and filled with significant numbers of independent applicants (calculated from table):

Pediatrics-Primary (PGY-1): 57.6 percent Emergency Medicine (PGY-2): 52.6 percent Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation (PGY-2): 48.8 percent Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation (PGY-1): 46.5 percent Family Medicine (PGY-1): 46.4 percent

Neurological Surgery joined the Match in 2009. ACGME created a new PGY-1 Plastic Surgery (Integrated) specialty in 2009. Combined/coordinated Plastic Surgery programs (which are not integrated) now appear under PGY-2 positions. Many Anesthesiology, Emergency Medicine, and Neurology programs have converted their positions from Advanced (PGY-2) to Categorical (PGY-1) over the period, affecting the trends in those specialties.

Tables 9-12

Tables 9 though 12 display the numbers of PGY-1 matches by specialty for four different groups: all applicants (Table 9), U.S. seniors (Table 10), osteopathic students and graduates (Table 11), and foreign-trained physicians (Table 12). Foreign-trained physicians are U.S. citizen and non-U.S. citizen students and graduates of international medical schools, excluding Canadian and Fifth Pathway applicants. Specialties that placed at least 10 positions in the Match and showed an increase or decrease in the numbers of matched applicants of greater than 10 percent between 2007 and 2011 are highlighted with arrows.

A larger proportion of U.S. seniors have matched to Anesthesiology and Emergency Medicine every year since 2007 (Table 10). On the other hand, the percentages of U.S. seniors matched to Medicine-Preliminary, Obstetrics-Gynecology, and Pathology are the lowest in five years.

Every year between 2007 and 2011, around 80 percent of matched osteopathic students/graduates were in the specialties of Internal Medicine (Categorical), Family Medicine, Pediatrics (Categorical), Emergency Medicine, Psychiatry (Categorical), and Obstetrics-Gynecology (Table 11).

Table 12 shows that foreign-trained physicians are concentrated in a few specialties. More than half matched to Internal Medicine (Categorical) (37.5%) and Family Medicine (18.8%). The next largest groups were Pediatrics (Categorical), which accounted for 8.8 percent of the total, and Psychiatry (Categorical), 6.0 percent of the total.

^{*}Foreign-trained physicians include both U.S. citizen and non-U.S. citizen graduates of international medical schools.

A➤ Denotes increase/decrease in number of positions filled by U.S. allopathic seniors of more than 10 percent and 10 positions between 2007 and 2011. Neurological Surgery joined the Match in 2009. ACGME created a new PGY-1 Plastic Surgery (Integrated) specialty in 2009. Combined/coordinated Plastic Surgery programs (which are not integrated) now appear under PGY-2 positions. Many Anesthesiology, Emergency Medicine, and Neurology programs have converted their positions from Advanced (PGY-2) to Categorical (PGY-1) over the period, affecting the trends in those specialties.

Table 13 displays the numbers of U.S. seniors and independent applicants (all applicants other than U.S. seniors) who ranked each specialty as their only choice, first choice, or not first choice: Only choice includes applicants who ranked that specialty first on their rank order lists (ROLs) and ranked no other specialties. First choice includes applicants who ranked that specialty first and ranked at least one other specialty. Not first choice includes applicants who ranked another specialty first but also included that specialty on their rank lists. Preferred choice is defined as first choice ignoring any subsequent choices (only choice and first choice combined).

In this table, preliminary programs and transitional-year programs were excluded from the counts because they are not considered a preference for a specific specialty. PGY-1 and PGY-2 programs were aggregated and the combined specialties were consolidated under each major specialty.

In addition, the table shows the ratio of the number of positions in a specialty to the number of applicants choosing a specialty as their preferred choice.

Take Anesthesiology for example:

- A total of 1,175 U.S. allopathic seniors ranked at least one Anesthesiology program (sum of 1,079 "only choice," 59 "first choice," and 37 "not first choice"). Anesthesiology was the "preferred choice" for 1,138 U.S. seniors (sum of 1,079 "only choice" and 59 "first choice"). With 1,404 positions offered, the ratio of positions to U.S. senior applicants who ranked Anesthesiology as the "preferred" choice was 1.2 to 1.
- Similarly, 573 independent applicants ranked at least one Anesthesiology program (359 plus 124 plus 90); for 483 of them Anesthesiology was the "preferred" specialty. The ratio of 1,404 positions to 483 independent applicants was 2.9 to 1.

Only choice includes applicants who ranked that specialty first on their rank order lists (ROLs) and ranked no other specialties. First choice includes applicants who ranked that specialty first and ranked at least one other specialty on their ROLs. Not first choice includes applicants who ranked another specialty first but also include that specialty on their ROLs. Preferred choice is defined as either only choice or first choice. Preliminary programs and Transitional Year programs were excluded from these counts since they are not considered a preference for a specific specialty.

Total Positions: includes all positions offered in a specialty, except preliminary positions.

Positions Per U.S. Senior: is the ratio of Total Positions to the number of U.S. seniors for whom that specialty was the first or only choice. Positions Per Independent Applicant (IA): is the ratio of Total Positions to the number of independent applicants for whom that specialty was the first or only choice.

Positions Per All Applicants: is the ratio of Total Positions to the number of U.S. seniors and independent applicants for whom that specialty was the first or only choice.

The 2011 Match results for U.S. seniors ("U.S.") and independent applicants ("IA") who ranked only one specialty can be found in Table 14 and Figure 6.

Larger percentages of U.S. seniors than independent applicants preferred Anesthesiology, Emergency Medicine, Orthopaedic Surgery, Pediatrics, and Radiology-Diagnostic. Larger percentages of independent applicants chose Family Medicine, Internal Medicine, and Psychiatry.

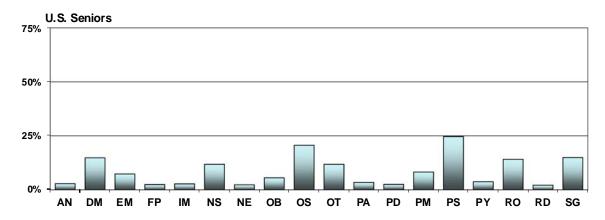

The higher proportions of unmatched U.S. senior applicants in such specialties as Dermatology (DM), Neurological Surgery (NS), Orthopaedic Surgery (OS), Otolaryngology (OT), Plastic Surgery (PS), Radiation Oncology (RO) and Surgery-General (SG) (Figure 6, top) reflect the fact that there are significantly more applicants interested in those specialties than there are available positions. That disparity also is reflected in the high fill rates (Table 1) for those specialties.

For all specialties, a larger percentage of independent applicants failed to match when compared to U.S. seniors (Figure 6). Neurological Surgery (NS), Orthopaedic Surgery (OS), Otolaryngology (OT), Radiation Oncology (RO), and Surgery-General (SG) had the highest unmatched rates among independent applicants.

Table 15 shows the trends between 1997 and 2011 in the percentages of U.S. allopathic seniors and independent applicants matching to their first, second, third, fourth, or lower than fourth program choice on their rank order lists. The calculation of the percentages includes the number of unmatched applicants. In earlier years the percentages were based only on matched applicants. This change was made to more accurately reflect the percentages of applicants who obtained matches at different ranks and to more clearly portray the differences between U.S. seniors and independent applicants (see Table 6 for trends in overall match rates by applicant type). The differences in the two calculations can be seen in Figure 7.

Until 2011, applicant growth outpaced position growth over the last several years; thus it is not surprising that the percentage of applicants matching to their first-choice programs has declined. In 2011, about one-half (52.6%) of U.S. seniors matched to their first-choice programs, the lowest since 1997. Among independent applicants the percentage of first-choice matches was 24.7 in 2011.

Figure 7 compares the percentage of applicants matched to programs by rank choice in the 2011 Match using both the historic (top two figures) and revised (bottom two figures) calculations. As the bottom two figures show, a significantly higher percentage of U.S. allopathic seniors matched to their first-choice programs compared to independent applicants.

All Applicants

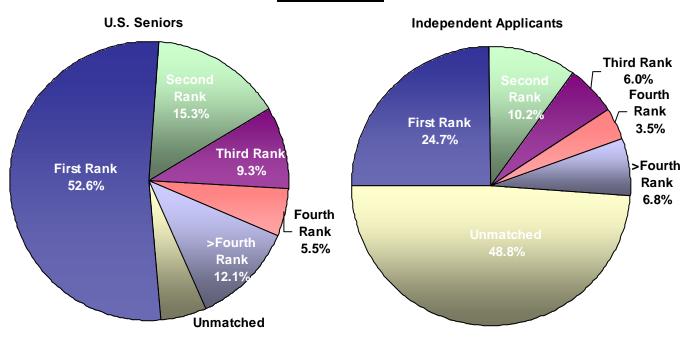

Table 16

Couples have been able to participate together in the Main Residency Match since 1984. The two partners identify themselves as a couple to the NRMP and submit rank order lists of identical length. The algorithm treats the two lists as a unit, matching the couple to the highest pair of program choices where both partners obtain a match.

Table 16 presents the number of couples in the Match and the outcomes. Match rates were calculated as the number of individual matches divided by the total number of individuals. In 2011, 1,618 applicants (809 couples) participated in the Match as couples, an all-time high. Couples enjoy great success, with match rates above 90 percent every year since 1984. In 2011, the match rate for couples was 94.6 percent, up from 93.4 percent in 2010. About 79 percent of couples are U.S. seniors, and their match rates are quite similar to those of their classmates, varying within 1 or 2 percentage points each year.

Couples have the option of one partner indicating a willingness to go unmatched at a certain rank on the rank order list if the partner matches to the program linked to that rank. Table 16 shows the number of couples matched with this option in the One Matched column (53 in 2011).

Table 17 displays by specialty the average number of ranked applicants needed to fill each position within programs. Only programs that filled all of their positions are included in the calculations. Specialties with fewer than 5 programs that filled all positions also were excluded to maintain their anonymity. Although this measure is affected by such factors as the number and geographic distribution of programs as well as the number of programs ranked per applicant, it is a rough measure of specialty competitiveness. It may be more appropriate to interpret the data within each specialty across time and less appropriate to compare across specialties, especialty for specialties with a large proportion of programs that do not fill.

Using Anesthesiology as an example, on average programs ranked 8.0 applicants to fill each position in the 2011 Match. That figure represents an increase of 0.5 ranked applicants per filled position over the 2010 average of 7.5.

NRMP Program Results lists every hospital that participated in the Match, along with the number of positions offered and filled for each of the institution's programs.

Hospitals are arranged alphabetically within state. The listing includes the hospital name (abbreviated in some instances); the program code, which identifies each program; the quota (the number of positions offered by the program); and the number of applicants matched with that program.

There are three reasons why a program that ranked an adequate number of applicants did not fill its quota: (1) the applicants preferred other programs having vacancies; (2) the applicants did not rank the program; or (3) the applicants had withdrawn from the Match.

There are also three reasons why applicants may not be matched with their most preferred program: (1) the program was filled with applicants it preferred; (2) the program did not rank the applicant; or (3) the program had withdrawn from the Match.

The following types of programs are offered through the NRMP:

- Categorical (C) positions are positions in programs that expect applicants who enter in their first post graduate year to complete the training required for certification in that specialty, provided their performance is satisfactory. Categorical programs in primary care medicine and primary care pediatrics are designated by (M) to distinguish them from regular medicine and pediatrics programs.
- Preliminary (P) positions are for one or two years of training as prerequisite for entering advanced positions in specialty programs that require one or more years of broad clinical training. Internal medicine, surgery, and transitional programs commonly offer preliminary positions.
- Advanced (A) positions (beginning in 2012) are positions in specialty programs that begin after completion of one or more years of preliminary training. Applicants without prior graduate medical education can apply for those positions (beginning in 2011) while also applying for preliminary positions that are compatible with their plans.
- Physician (R) positions are PGY-2 positions starting in the year of the Match that are reserved for physicians who have had prior graduate medical education. Physician positions are not available to U.S. senior medical students.

NRMP Program Code Structure

The NRMP program code is a 9-character code based on the following criteria.

- The first four characters are the Institution Code.
- The fifth through the seventh characters represent specialty code obtained from the first three digits of the program's ACGME Code and designates the specialty.
- The eighth character represents the program type:
 - P Preliminary program
 - C Categorical program
 - M Primary program
 - A Advanced program
 - $R-Physician\ program$
 - F Fellowship program
- The ninth character represents the track:
 - $0-first\ program/track\ in\ the\ specialty\ and\ program\ type\ at\ the\ institution$
 - 1 second program/track in the same specialty and program type at the same institution (i.e. 34th Street Clinic)
 - 2 third program/track in the same specialty and program type at the same institution (i.e. Rural Clinic).

Examples:

Institution: 1853 – North Colorado Medical Center ACGME Number: 120-07-11-074 – Family Medicine
